

To ensure compliance with the FinCEN reporting requirements for certain real estate transactions involving residential property, the following provides Escrow's data collection process for Anti-Money Laundering (AML) regulations for Residential Real Estate Transfers (RRE) using the SoftPro Live and inHere integrations.

- > Sending the RRE Data Collection Package to inHere
- > Tracking Packages
- > Recalling a Sent Package

When Reporting May be Required

Reporting may be necessary if all of the following conditions are met:

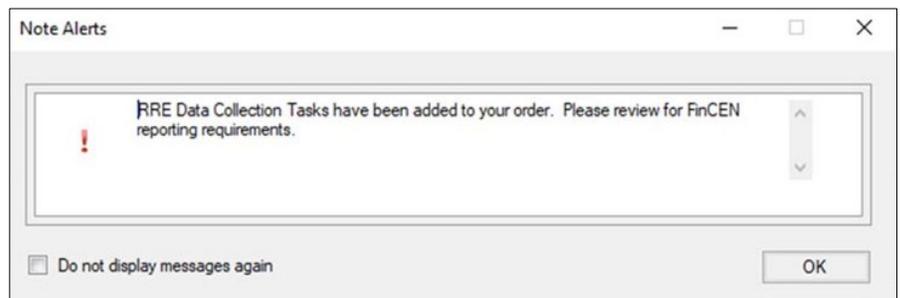

- Property type = residential real estate
- Buyer type = Business entity
- Transaction type = non-financed transaction

Refer to the FinCEN Residential Real Estate Rule website if additional information is needed.

Automation & Escrow Workflow in SoftPro

If the data collection requirements are recognized in your order,

- A message is displayed when the order is accessed stating that the transaction may require RRE Reporting.

- Four Checklist Tasks are automatically added to your order
 - Buyer's RRE Information Form
 - Seller's RRE Information Form
 - Buyer's RRE Form Received/Review for FinCEN Submission*
 - Seller's RRE Form Received/Review for FinCEN Submission*

IMPORTANT: The Tasks names cannot be modified in any way. Changing the names causes a break in the automation process.

The automation process recognizes the Data Collection package and automatically pulls the data into your order and the associated document into smartVIEW. The 360 Queue displays the received entry created by the Live Service Account.

An email notification is sent to the Escrow Officer listed in the order stating the data has been imported into the SoftPro Order.
